CINCINNATI, Jan. 19.—When the news of the nomination of Morrison R. Waite, President of the Ohio Constitutional Convention, for Chief-Justice of the United States Supreme Court reached the Convention this afternoon, it found

WHO THE NEW CHIEF-JUSTICE IS.

The Hop. Morrison R. Watte was born in Commecticut, and graduated from Yale College. His father, for a number of years, was Chief-Justice of Connecticut, and it was with him that the present nomines studied law. In 1883 he moved to Maumee City, O., and began practice. Though a young man, he took a prominent position at the Ber. After the removal of the county-seat to Toledo, he changed his rehidence so that place, and, as attorney, took charge of the commercial interests which were then developing at that point. He has always been known as A MAN OF UNCOMPROMISING INTEGRITY, and many of the most difficult commercial esses that have arisen in Toledo have been settled by simple reference to him.—his word neceiving the sanction of law by both parties. and many of the most difficult commercial cases that have arisen in Toledo have been settled by simple reference to him—his word necessing the sanction of law by both parties. His practice, both there and in surrounding commes, was for years well large.

Mr. Waite is a thoroughbred lawyer, has always refused to enter political life, and has never consented, except when assured by his constituents that they desired the sacrifice on his part as a personal favor. He was nominated unanimously by the Republican party as a member of the Constitutional Convention. Mr. Kellogg was put on the tienst with him. Mr. Waite was nominated by the Democrats with equal unanimity on their ticket, with Mr. Scribner, that county being entitled to two Representatives. Mr. Waite being Entitled to two Representatives. Mr. Waite being Scribner's opponent, and Mr. Waite being Entitled to two Representatives. Mr. Waite and Mr. Scribner were elected, Mr. Kellogg being Scribner's opponent, and Mr. Waite being Entitled to two Representatives. Mr. Waite being Entitled to two Representatives of the Constitutional Convention he was elected Pressight. He has discharged the duties of that important and difficult position to the entire satisfaction of all concerned, the reception of the news of his nomination by the Convention to-day being the most ample evidence of his popularity with that body.

[To the Associated Press.]

CINCENNATI, O., Jan. 19.—News of the nomination of Morrison R. Waite, of Toledo, now President of the Obio Constitutional Convention, come to Mr. Waite at noon. At the beginning of the afternoon session, the Hon. Rufus King arose and read an Associated Press dispatch from Washington announcing the momination of Mi. Waite. a PROLONGED STORM OF APPLAUSE, in which every member of the Convention most heartily participated.

The Hon. Samuel Hunt then moved to appoint a committee of four to draw up resolutions expressive of the sense of the Convention on the subject. President Waite ruled it out order, and business proceeded. He has refused to permit any member of the Convention to us on the subject. President water ruled it out of order, and business proceeded. He has refused to permit any member of the Convention to use INVLUENCE AT WASHINGTON for his appointment, though several have offered to do so, and was not aware that any of his friends had presented his name. He is now stopping with his wife and sister at the Burnett House, and up to 11 o'clock he has had no notice, official or 'unefficial, from Washington of his nomination.

Christ Church was sold on Saturday to Mr. William Aldrich, of this city, for $9,500. The sale was under a foreclosure of a mortgage for $7,500 held by a Mr. Vaughan, of Rhode Island. This mortgage was given about two years ago, and the purchaser, of course, assumes the older $25,000 mortgage, under which the church was to have been sold next Thursday. The counsel conducting the case to enjoin Mr. Chancy from using the church expresses the opinion that this move of his Trustees is franduent and void in any event, and that it is a flank nevement made in the belief that they are cor-ain to be defeated in the pending litigation.

More speeches on the currency question were delivered in the Senate yesterday, but they only made darkness visible. Senator Wright, of Lowa, thought the course of the Government in the management of the finances had been one of "the purest morality," and indulged in the conclusive metaphor that our currency had no more to do with our monetary derangement than "the halance role of an acrobat, or a last

In introducing President Doolittle, ex-President Burroughs alluded to the time, thirty years ago, when he, then a theological student, first met Mr. Doolittle in Warsaw, N. Y., where he was known as "the eloquent young Doolittle of the Genesee Bar." There was no one in the nation, he said, to whom he would than to Judge Doolittle. In accepting his new duties, President Doolittle stated that his other ngagements would not allow him to give up his nce at Racine, Wis., and he will, therefo give but one evening and one morning of each week to the administration of his office.

All that is said of Morrison R. Waite, the President's third nomination for Chief-Justice is so far to his credit. He comes of illustrion judicial parentage, his father having been Chief-Justice of Connecticut, and one of the most eminent juriets of New England. He is a graduate of Vale, and is 58 years of age. His asiduous devotion to the practice of law has prevented him from achieving a cheap popularity, but placed him years ago at the head of the Bar of ful public attention in the last two years for his services at Geneva as counsel for the United States, and at Columbus, Ohio, as President of the Constitutional Convention, over which he was presiding when he and the country were surprised by his nomination. It is singular that his nomination for the Chief-Justiceship of the his nomination for the Chief-Justiceship of the Supreme Court should come just a year to a day after his admission to practice in that Court. eral months ago. The stocks of jewelry had been ordered in the flush of confidence that immediately preceded the panic, and in antici-pation of a lively trade during the winter. The lock-up of money that followed shortly after necessitated refrenchment on all sides, and the first and easiest things to cut off were articles of personal adorn-ment. The firms which were seriously crippled during the panic managed to sustain themselves with the help of their creditors shose interest lay in the same direction, so as this was large, it was not enough to save those who had overreached themselves. Aside from this general fact, the competition in this branch of trade has been abnormal in Chicago, and several of the firms have taken risks and incurred expenses beyond their capital and re-

The trouble in New York has been that the State, some years ago, under the lead of a number of local dema-gogues, constructed some dozen or more lateral canals, and made the cost of their construction a lien on the revenues of the Erie & Oswego Canal. The surplus earnings of the Erie Canal now amount to over $40,000,000; that is, the State has received that much more revenue from that canal than it has expended on it. Since the construction of these lateral canals, all its surplus revenues have been consumed in making good the deficiencies in their receipts, and the monay that would have sufficed to have doubled the capacity of the Eric Canal has been used by the State for other purposes. During 1873, the State expended on all the canals, except the Erie, for repairs and management, $1,169,474 more than was received from them. The receipts from the Eric Canal over the outlay, was $993,449, or nearly a million of dellars, which sum was wholly absorbed in paying the deficiencies in the receipts of the other canals. make $6.42 on wheat and $5.17 on corn per ton, ainst the $3.50 per ton from Chicago to Mon-Canal is, in view of this competition, a matter of urgent necessity; steam, as a motor, is also indispensable to retain the trade. The Comp-troller estimates that, with certain enlargements and the use of steam, reducing the time to 11 or 12 days from Chicago to New York, the canal may retain the trade.

The people of New York may as well under stand at once that trade will follow the cheaperoute. Grain for export will be as near Live pool when at Montreal as it is when at New York. At Montreal it is put on board the teamer at little cost. In New York, grain shipped by canal is kept in the harbor in the boats at heavy cost, and subjected to taxation and extertion by the Weighers' and Measurers' Association that are vexatious and oppressive. If grain can be delivered from Chiago at Montreal at $3.50 per ton, then all that is intended for export will go there in preference to paying $6.42 per ton to New York, and $2 more for harbor charges in that city. In the meantime, Philadelphia is receiving grain from lake ports by rail from Erie; Portland and Boston are receiving grain for local consumption by rail from Buffalo; while Baltimore is receiving it by all-rail from Chicago. Unless the freights and tolls on the Eric Canal can be reduced so as to compete with the St. Lawrence route, the trade by that canal in Western grain must dwindle to the amount needed to meet the domestic consumption. The advantages of the Canadian route are very obvious. There is no breaking of cargo; the grain is taken from the steamer; there is always a return cargo, because ocean freights to Montreal of Chicago imports are much less than to New York, and the ravages and extortions and the cartage and the storage of the New York Custom-House are all avoided. In every view,— economy in freight, economy in time, facility in doing brainess, ample capital, and absence of tells, all show it to be to the interest of the West to trade by way of the St. Lawrence. A comp In the meantime, the revolution in lake canal freights produced by the opening of the enlarged Canadian canals must have an effect on railroad freights. At present, immense bodies of grain are sent by lake to Buffalo, which are there put in cars and sent forward in every direction by rail. The railroads even in the summer season can compete with the Eric Canal. Can they reduce their rates to compete with the Canadian canals? It is eignificant that one-half the grain received in New York City in 1878 was received by all-rail. Can the railroads still further reduce their freights? Upon the completion of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to Chicago, that city will be about 800 miles distant from here. This road will probably be able to fake grain from Chicago to Baltimore at $8 per ton, which is about the same as the average of the past seven years from Chicago to New York by lake, Eric Canal, and Hudson River, and inoluding the New York harbor extortions. If it can do this at this time, is it possible for that or can do this at this time, is it possible to any other railroad to further reduce its rates to compete with the St. Lawrence route at $3.50 per ton? The espacity of the Eric Canal may be so enlarged that, by the use of steam, that route may compete with the route to Montreal, but it is very doubtful; so that at ort trade in grain from the lake ports must go to Montreal, and, not withstanding this possibili-ty has been notorious for many years, the Legisature of New York still insists that products shipped by the Eric Canal shall be taxed to pay the cost of the construction of the worthless lateral canals of that State, and the enlargement of the the workingmen of Chicago and other cities. It will be well for them to remember that the spirit of the law is stretched to its utmost when workingmen mass themselves into a mob, and with flags and banners march upon the municipal suthorities and besiege their doors with noisy demonstrations, and seek by the presence of an unruly multitude to overswe and browbeat them mto submission to their demands. Yet even this has been tolerated in almost every city of the United States during the present season with-out protest. Nothing has been placed in the way of the workingmen to prevent them from delivering the fullest expression of their views. All other business, however im-portant it might be, has been stopped to listen to them, and every effort has been made not only to relieve their wants, but also to redress their alleged grievances, although the demand has been made more than once in a menacing tone. This assurance, so often repeated, ought to convince them that they have nothing to gain by making turbulent demonstrations, and that they are even more likely to gain their ends by presenting their grievances to the authorities in a quiet and or-derly manner, like other citizens, after they have neld their meetings, and expressed their opinions, and made their platforms. The workingingmen of New York, however, chose to follow different policy: They formed themselves into a mob, well knowing that the brutal and vicious elements in the lower part of the city would foir in with them for the sake of plunder, or for an opportunity to commit deeds of violence.

While the police authorities interposed no obstacle in the way of their reaching the ear of the City Government and stating their case in its fullest extent, they nevertheless adopted such lawful precautionary measures as should pre-vent any mob violence or injury to life and property. They laid down certain rules which they had the right to do, as guardians of the public peace, and informed the Internationals, days before-hand, that they must obey them. There was nothing in these rules which encroached upon their rights, nothing which interfered with the right of free speech, nothing which prevented them from making the fullest statement of their grievances. Notwithstanding this, the working-men chose to violate the rules deliberately and defiantly. The result was what they might have expected. They came into collision with the police, whose duty it was to enforce the laws, and, after a short resistance, they were routed and dispersed.

Thirty or forty of them, who were most promi-nent in their resistance, were arrested, and have been committed for trial, and will have to suffer the penalty of the laws they have vic-All this is in accordance with the strict ope tions of justice, and they cannot expect to have any sympathy. Two months ago, Terry Island, off the Connection coast, was the gathering-place of the maddest of all mad companies. The Second Adventisis waited there for the coming of the Lord, which was sure to take place on New Year's day. The intervening time was devoted to preparation, to purification of spirit and body. Enthusiasts, mane and insane, flooked to the meetings as the day drew near. Many left their worldly goods without a guardian. Their bolist was absolute. To doubt was to sin. They watched and praved till the day came, and the Lord did not. A few days' grace was given, but the last trump remained unblown. The gathering broke up. The Second Advent organ, the Watchman's Ory, of Mariden, cries aloud once more. It can see no matakes in its figures; they show that the world ought now to be nowhere. There is something pathetic in the odd question it puts: "After all, may it not be true that we gre the simple-minded, foolish people the world at large esteem us to be, and our hopes a mere dream, an hallucination?"

There will be a preliminary and a general examination, the former open to all women over 17 years of age, the latter open to all over 18. The experiment deserves the fullest success. The certificates given the successful students will become here, as in England, valuable, not only as a recognition of merit by some higher authority than the owner of a boarding-school, but as helps to employment.

THE BIPLOMATIC IMEROGLIO.

The diplomatic disagreement between the Government of Japan and certain foreign representatives continues unsettled, and has, indeed, been complicated to some extent by events not yet made public. It is still urged that the whole country should be thrown open at an early period, a proposition which the Japanese steadily refuse to untertain, unless the condition of exterritorial jurisdiction be abandoned. Three Ministers of the nations concerned in the Simonomi indemnity, of which $2,000,000 remain unpaid, will press their claims if their desires are not acceded to. These are the envoys of Holland, France, and England. The United States Minister, Mr. Bingham, holds aloof from the conferences, and has even informally notified the Government that he desires no part of the case of other Asiatic nations. The document is the most energetic yet issued, and thouse the declaring in positive terms that ex-territoriality, as it now exists, shall not be applied to it country generally, is understood to express the country generally, is understood to express that effect. The result of its reception by the foreign Ministers had not yet transpired by there is little doubt that it will arouse the formidable opposition of the whole body.

A meeting of the Common Council was held last evening, Mayor Colvin in the chair. Thirty-light Aldermen were present. THE BOILER INSPECTORSHIP.

On the motion to approve the minutes, Ald.
Campbell moved to amend by striking out the following which has reference to the confirmation of Thomas Hamilton as Boiler Inspector:

Aid. Dixon wanted to know upon what grounds Aid Dixon wanted to know upon what grounds the motion was made.

Aid. Campbell said the entry was rather unsual. The duty of the Clerk was to give the record of the proceedings as they occurred, and normake minutes of his own.

Aid. Dixon asked what was the gentleman's authority for believing that the Clerk should do les of parliamentary law. Aid. Dixon said he believed the Chair had not entertained the motion when it was made. Aid, Bailey had changed his vote before the result was announced. The Clerk, being the agent of the Chair, had done nothing more than his duty in announcing the action of Mr. Hamilton.

Ald. Campbell formally moved to amend the minutes, claiming that he only wanted to bring them in accordance with the Charter. Ald Hildreth said the vote of Ald Bailey count to be legally placed among the ayes, where it belonged. The Clerk had not the right to distranchise any Alderman, but the Corporation Comeel had given his opinion on the election of Mr. Hamilton, and the Clerk's record would stand before the law.

The Mayor said he believed that the matter of the election of Mr. Hamilton as Boiler Insector had been in his opinion, settled at the list meeting of the Council. The confirmation of Mr. Hamilton had been declared, and those who had not appealed from the decision of the Chair had tacitly given their consent to his holding the office. Ald Campbell said the question of confirmaion had not yet arisen. He had merely spoken

Ald Woodman said he underwood that Ald.

The Mayor announced that he had appointed Dr. J. C. Paoli as City Physician; Mr. J. Mo-Dernett as member of the Board of Health for the West Division, and Mr. Moses Hook as member of the same Board for the North Division; and he asked the Council to confirm the appoint-

The Mayor stated that Mesers. Bateham and Adams had resigned their positions as members of the Board of Health, and that he was, therefor, at like ty to appoint their successors.

Ald Culierton said that the Council had given its views on the nomination of Dr. Paoli on a previous occasion. He did not think that the resident of the United States would send back the names of persons who had been rejected, and believed that the Mayor had no right to do so.

by the Council on account of a misapprehension of facts.

The Mayor said that his only reason for saying anything about the matter was that it was not fairly before the Council at the last meeting. Dr. Paoli had denied that he intended to employ an assistant. Why did not the Counmittee bring in a recommendation against him, instead of making no recommendation at all? Many testimonials has been received as to Dr. Paoli qualifications, and he saked that they be read.

Ald. Cullerton stated that he had been informed that Dr. Paoli had made arrangements with another physician to look after the Small-Por Hospital; and Dr. Paoli would not dare to dear ft.

For Hospital; and Dr. Paoli would not dare to dany it.

Ald Campbell said that it came with a poor groe from the Mayor thus to attempt to argue and force his nominations through the Council. Objections were made to the confirmation of Dr. Paoli. A press gang might do in the military or appear business, but it would not work in the Council. [Applause from the lobby.] He moved that all the nominations be referred to the respective committees.

Ald Lengacher seconded the motion.

Ald McGrath did not believe that the Mayor intended to force any appointment through the Council Dr. Paoli was emmently fitted for the place, and pettifogging ought to cease. If he were a competent man, let aim be appointed; if mo, he could be removed.

The Clark read a letter from Brock McVickar, inhorsing Dr. Paoli, whereat the Council lughed and refused to hear any further communications of the sort.

The year and nays were taken on the question of confirmation, with the following result:

Fess-Dixon, Sidwell, Spaniding, Schmitz, Hiddreth, Moore, Echarges.

in deciding the motion to reconsider out of order.

The Mayor asked if Ald. Schaffner meant to say that the Mayor should wait a week before commissioning an officer.

Ald. Schaffner said be did not mean that, but he did mean to take exceptions to the ruling of the Chair on the motion to reconsider.

Ald. Cullerton held that the motion to reconsider was in order, and the Council should so right to commission the Boiler-Inspector until his bond had been approved by the Council.

The Mayor said the Council had rothing to do with the matter. The bond was to be approved by the Mayor.

Ald. Sidwell moved that the Council adjourn.

Ald. Woodman remonstrated that a question was pending, and the motion was out of order.

The Mayor ordered the Clerk to call the yeas and nays, and the motion to adjourn was lost by a vote of 13 yeas and 25 mays.

The vote on the appeal was then taken, as follows:

The assets consist of bills receivable, $100,536; mortgages, $116,425; secounts, $212,571; office furniture, $547; total, $439,078; $267,775 of this amount are considered had and doubtful claims.

The investigation will include contract commattes to contractors, pipe inspection and laying, and any new points which may arise in regard to the misuse of the funds and bonds of the Water Commission. A hearing was had to-day in the case of Civil Engineer Kennedy and ex-Secretary Ross, charged with the larcony of the book of the Water Commission containing the petty cash account, bonds, and old commissions paid, and secrued interest account. They were held in $1,000 bail to appear at the present term of court.

J. Y. Sezumen on Honey and Religion-He Losing Falth in the Church.

Mr. Z. R. Buruham was elected Chairman for the evening. The Secretary, Mr. C. Y. W. Junge, then read the minutes of last year's annual meeting, which were adopted, as a matter of course.

Mr. J. Y. Scammon next made a motion that the same resolution which was adopted by the Society at the last year's annual sneeding should be readopted, namely, that he, Mr. Scammon, as Chairman of the Executive Committee, should be given more time wherein to prepare and publish a full history of the New Church in Chicago, and its spiritual as well Tas financial condition. He said that the last year was a very hard one for him to find time in which to devote to the consideration of the subject.

The pastor then read his report, which was not adopted, but referred back to the Executive Committee for revision. From this report it appears that twenty-eight were added to the fold of the New Church by the pastor alone.

MINITERY COMMITTEE.

The report of the Executive Committee, the Chairman of which is Mr. J. Y. Scammon, was then read by the Becretary. The support said that the Finance Committee was not ready with the report, onsequently none could be made as regards the state of the finances of the Society. These are not quite up to the standard of the company, but are, nevertheless, tolerable impersonations. It is a singular coincidence that, in the last representation of "The Victims," the part of Fitherbert was played by Mr. J. Norris at Hooley's Theatre, and was a marked feature of the performance. Mr. Owens' specialty, "Solon Shingle," is the afterpiece, and, though rather long for such a position in the antertainment, is very enjoyable. People are apt to remark that "Solon Shingle" is a trifle old. It may be, but it is just as good as it ever was, and se venture to say there are many of our regular theatre-goers who have never seen it. To these an experiment will be found axtremely pleasant, if they will be so honest as to admit by their presence that they never have beheld it. The bill remains the same till further notice, but as Mr. Owens' engagement is brief, and he has several other pieces to play, a change is likely to be made shortay.

"False Spame" was played at Hooley's Theatre last evening to a better house than could have been expected for a Monday night. It was played with the same spirit and fidelity that characterized its fact presentation at this theatre. The cast is nearly the same in essentials, and the mounting better than ever. There is no reason why it should not prove as strong an attraction to the public as it did last season, for it was talken off in the height of its populiarity.

Chatlet Astor Bristed west first through Yale College, and later, in 1840, he entered the University of Cambridge, England. While there he gained some reputation as a classical scholar, and in 1845 he graduated at Trinity College. Since the time when Mr. Bristed, under the psendonym of "Carl Benson," subject the field as author and literateur, he had passed many years abroad. His writings were mainly contributed to magazines, newspapers, and other periodicals. He did not always, however, give his thoughts to the public under the disguise of "Carl Benson," for he frequently wrote under his own name. He had been for a year or two previous to his death a correspondent from Washington for the Twrf, Field and Farm. In those letters, or regular communications rather, he treated extunsively of turf maticus, and when the question of establishing a race course in the vicinity of Washington was agitated accupie of years ago he urged the project, con amore, in the columns of the journal named. Among the more lasting of Mr. Bristed's writings which have been published in book form may be counteraised dhe fellowing: "Selections trom Catallius," with notes (1849), "The Upper Ten Thousand of New York," and "Letters to Hon. Horace Mann "—the latter being attacks that had been made upon Stephen Girard and John Jacob Astor, the grandfather of the anther, both of which works were published in 1852, as was also "Five Years in an English University" was brought out in 1872. Mr. Brissed was one of the original Trustees of the Astor Library,

This he has promised to do, as well as to deliver up to instite ou the execution of the people any person or persons who may have been implicated, or who aided and abetted on the defalcation. It is said that the knowledge of his coming back acted upon the nerves of parties here like a clap of thunder from a clear sky. Startling developments are looked for, but hey will not be made at this term of the Court, as there is no probability that a trial in the Albert Smith case will be had.

The Mississippi Election-Ames Deciared by the Supreme Court to Be the Constitutional Governor.

Special Disputch to The Chicago Tribme.

Manyma, Jan. 19.—Under an act passed at the extra session of the Mississippi Legislature expediting actions by quo wartanto, the question of the constitutionality of a recent election has been brought before the Supreme Court on an agreed case of the old and the newly-elected County Treasurer of Hinds. (30v. Powers having signed the act, was anxious to obtain a decision at the earliest practicable moment to determine which is really the constitutional State Government, his own or that of Gen. Ames, who claims anthority by virtue of the late election. The question having thus been brought before the Supreme Court, its decision has been awaited with great interest. On Saturday a motion to dismiss was argued, and overruled, the Court taking the naster under advisement until to-day, when the opinion was delivered that the act under which the election was held on Nov. 4 last was constitutional, consequently the election itself was valid. This settles the question between Gov. Ames and Powers, and puts Ames in the Governor's chair.

against the four great representative corporations embraced within the monopoly controlling the Wyoming region. These are the same complaints that may be heard in every other authracite region of the State. The miners declare that their condition is but little removed from that of a bonded stave, as they are the victims of the caprices of the Companies, who dole out their own figures to serve a prospering greed and force them into idieness, when production is to be suspended in order to make a consumation of the caprice of the Companies, when production is to be suspended in order to make a consumation of the caprice of the consumation of the caprice of the consumation of the caprice of the caprice of the caprice of the consumation of the caprice of the company not furnishing them with the full number stupulated in the contracts, thus compelling the colliers to lose time and money; that superintendents have been appointed distancial to them, who display favoritism, and also by other means cut down the carnings; that distancial and incolony manner of dealing that a distancial and incolony manner of dealing the colony of the caprice of the corporation of the caprice of the cap reduction of wages is about to be thrust upon them, the men have determined that THERE SHALL EN NO SUMMISSION on their part, and that they will hold out like their brethren of the Schuylkill region until the last copper has been exhausced. The men have not made this decisration in convention, but this is the gineral burden among them in every district of the region. The cry of alarm is sounding, and "organize!" is the word that goes from hip to lip.

From all quarters the report comes here that soive preparations are on foot for the formation of the lodges of the National Minere Union. Good sutherities state that before the month closes the organization will number in this region a membership of fully 20,000 men.

A great mass-meeting will be held here on Wednesday, as the call for the same has been assued to-day. It is not positively known to-night whether or not the question of the reduction will come up for consideration, but the presence of Mr. Siney at this particular juncture is ominous.

RESISTING REDUCTION.

Although the strikers do not belong to the Mineral Raifroad & Mining Company, Lake Fiddler, Hickory Swamp, and Hickory Kidge, are now holding out against a 10 per cent reduction. Although the strikers do not belong to the Mineral and Laborers' Benevolent Asseciation now, it is understood they will do so.

adjoining this will the Wilkesbarre Coal and Iron Company is the controlling power, and there also the men are idle. That Company veither retuses nor agrees to the proposition of the men, but backs out because its mines aus on fire. It is believed, generally, that there is a concert of action between this Company and five Reading, and as soon as the twock of coal gets reduced both will tell the men to go to work, the fire in the Luzzens mines being rapidly subdied, at that the excuse will not avail much longer.

ASTRORE OF POLICY.

Mr. Siney, President of the Miners' National Union, who lives here, has gone to Luzzens to prevent a general strike, so as to be able to draw supplies viron them to help the men here. It is believed he will quiet things, so that the bulk of the sinsp ension will be in this region. WISCONSIN.

nyecial Dispatch to The Chicago Tribens.

Manson, Wis., Jan. 19.—The Capitol to-day
ritnessed the rare spectacle of a Monday mornng session fully attended.

A memorial was presented from the Sheboy-gan County Board of Supervisors for the en-largement of the Northern Hospital for the In-largement of the Northern Hospital for the In-sane.

Resolutions were offered calling on the Secre-tary of State for a statement of the amount of money reported to him as expended on Sturgeon Bay Canal; also for a revised estimate of re-ceipts and expenditures of the State for the year 1875; reducing estimates for expenditures to the lowest amount in his judgment consistent to the removal of the Wineebages.

GOV. WARHULIN'S INTENTIONS.

The Sign Journal, in response to paragraphs in ther papers to-night, says: "We know where, of we speak, and can say most positively that Gov. Washburn has never sought a Federal ap-Gov. Washburn has never sought a Federal ap-pointment, has had none offered to him, does not expect to have such offer, and, what is more there is no appointment he would accept if it should be tendered to him. He is comfortably located on his farm near this city, has all the work he wants, and is too happy in his surround-ings to think of accepting any office in the gift of the President.

GALWISTON, Tex., Jan. 19.—The Austin special to the News says: Matters here are very quiet. The offices of the Governor and Secretary of State are virtually turned over to the new officers. It is probable that Governor Coke will send to the Senate, to-day, the name of the new Attorney-General for ratification. When this is done, the proper officers for Governor, Attorney-General, and Secretary of State will proceed to count the votes for the other State officers, and Constitutional amendments, which will be completed on Wednesday. Immediately thereafter, the Comptroller of the Treasury and Superintendent of the Land-Office will be installed. The present incumbents have signified their willingness to retire when their successors have qualified.

LATER.

ABSTIN, Tex., Jan. 19.—To-day Sergeant-st-Arms Shropshire, of the Senate, accompanied by several deputies, proceeded to the different Government offices of the State, and took possession. When he demanded the keys from Newcomb, he refused them. It became necessary to arrest him, but, siter surrendering the keys and other property of his late department, he was released. Gov. Davis had previously left the Executive office, leaving only a clerk there. The clerk, after arrest, surrendered the keys. In the Adjutant-General's Department, Britton made no objection, yet asserted positively "You may be acting rather fast." Newcomb exhibited considerable excitement. His fire-place was full of papers, burning. Gov. Coke was frequently congratulated. These seems a general feeling of thantfulness that the people of Texas at last have possession of their own. The Public Instruction Department was released because the votes for Superintendent of that Department have not yet been counted.

There was evidently a final determination among the late officers to ignore the opinion of Attorney-General Williams, they only giving up the keys after being arreated, and then under verbal protests. Gen. Steele now has the Adjutant-General's Department, Capt. George Clarke the Secretary of State's, and Gov. Coke the Executive offices.
